KIDNAPED CO-ED FOUND SAFE IN ST. LOUIS, MO.

Detroit Detective Executive Calls Her Story 'Absurd'

St. Louis, Oct. 26.—(AP)—The father of Mary Elsie Waier, 21-year-old coed, arrived here today to take her back to Detroit, where she was kidnaped Monday.

The father, Vincent Waier, Detroit architect, and the pretty coed wept as they met in the matron's quarters at police headquarters. The girl sat on her father's lap as they chatted for half an hour.

Meanwhile, Chief of Police John J. McCarthy, who talked with Miss Waier, said he accepted as true her story that she apparently had been carried off by mistake for the kidnappers' intended victim.

Miss Waier, a student at Wayne University, Detroit, stepped from a Chicago bus into the custody of police here last night. The bus driver had notified police from Champaign, Ill., where Miss Waier told him she had been kidnaped and drew his attention to an automobile following them. The car soon disappeared.

Put on Bus in Chicago

After they have talked with department of justice agents, the father said, he and his daughter will fly back to Detroit today.

Miss Waier said she was kidnaped from the lobby of the university's children's building about 6 P. M. Monday. Three men and a woman forced her into an automobile and took her to a house on the outskirts of Detroit.

Once in the house, she said, one of the kidnappers asked her "can you parents raise $50,000?"

She said it would be impossible and he asked her identity. He cursed, when she told him she said remarking, "Leave it to a Jane to boob it up for you." Apparently he referred to the woman who had approached her shortly before her abduction, she said.

From Detroit she was taken to Gary or Hammond, Ind., where she spent Tuesday night in the custody of a woman. Wednesday her captors drove her to Chicago. She was placed on a St. Louis bus yesterday and ordered to "remain in a certain seat."

"ABSURD" SAYS OFFICER

Detroit, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Fred W. Frash, chief of detectives in charge of the search for Elsie Waier, 21-year-old coed located last night in St. Louis after having been missing since Monday, said today her story of having been kidnaped was "absurd."

He said no kidnapping gang would have held her for several days with nothing to gain, if it had been a case of mistaken identity, because of the widespread publicity given the case. Prosecutor Harry S. Toy said Miss Waier would be questioned by his office as soon as she arrives in Detroit.

FEDERAL JUDGE PUZZLED TODAY IN INSULL CASE

Chart Showing Alleged "Kiting" Greek to Wilkerson

Federal Court, Chicago, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Ten dollars passed upward through four companies of Samuel Insull's utility system emerged at the top, according to testimony in the Insull mail fraud trial today, as $518.62 by the process known as "pyramiding stock dividends."

A department of justice accountant, Murray S. Murphy, described this profit system while testifying that millions of dollars in "paper income" was written on the books of the Corporation Securities Company, now under fire as a mail fraud scheme.

When an Insull corporation issued stock dividends, Murray testified, it was the practice of the others receiving it to multiply the number of shares received by the current stock market quotation and put the total down as "income."

Prosecutor Leslie E. Salter called this "kiting."

It was a stock dividend by the Middle West Utilities Company, which that company charged against itself at $10 a share, that grew to $518.62 said the accountant, who put a huge diagram before the jury to picture the process.

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson professed to be puzzled.

"It's all Greek to me," he said. "I'll reserve a ruling on admitting the chart as evidence."

Fifth Fatality of CCC Tornado Today

Maryville, Mo., Oct. 26.—(AP)—The fifth fatality in Tuesdays tornado here occurred last night when Samuel W. Morrow, 42, of Bevier, Mo., a member of the Civilian Conservation Corps, died in a hospital. G. S. Runyon, Maryville, injured in the storm, was not expected to live.

TEACHER'S TALE OF KIDNAP PLOT IS "RIDICULOUS"

New Orleans Officials Frankly Disbelieve Woman's Story

McHenry, Miss., Oct. 26.—(AP)—Virginia Switzer, 28-year-old country school teacher, returned to her home here today, leaving New Orleans police scratching their heads over her bizarre story of having been kidnaped for $30,000 ransom.

Despite frank skepticism of New Orleans police, who found the missing school teacher 13 hours after her strange disappearance yesterday, Miss Switzer persisted in her story that three men forced her to leave McHenry with them.

Detective Captains Harry Gregson and Henry Asset bluntly told Miss Switzer her story was "ridiculous."

Miss Switzer told police three men haled her as she drove to school yesterday. She said she was forced into the trio's sedan, one driving her car, and they drove to a creek. There she said she was forced to provide paper for a ransom note demanding $30,000 by Friday night and warning the family not to notify authorities.

"Eluded Abductors"

She was taken to New Orleans, she said, where a blonde woman joined the party. She said a ball of cotton was put in her mouth, a strip of adhesive tape pasted over her mouth and bandage gauze wound around the lower portion of her face. Her hands were also bound. Her captors then took her to a movie theater where the three men sat just behind her with pistols at her back, she said.

She said she managed to elude them and reach the women's dressing room. There she scribbled on a piece of cardboard the information that she had been kidnaped and wanted the police. The note was given to a theater attache and police were promptly called.

"We found her in the dressing room," said Captain Gregson, "sitting with her face all bandaged up kind of loosely and adhesive tape over her lips. We cut the gauze and pulled the tape off. She didn't seem out of breath."

GIRL OF THREE SUCCUMBED TO SEVERE BURNS

Barbara Henson Died This Morning at K. S. Hospital

Barbara Jean Henson, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Henson of John Street, died at the Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital this morning at 2:45, her death resulting from severe burns accidentally sustained Wednesday noon. The body was removed to the Preston mortuary, where Coroner Frank M. Barker will conduct an inquest this afternoon.

The child was playing about the kitchen at her home Wednesday noon about 11:45 and climbed up to a table on which a three-burner kerosene stove was being used in preparing the noon day meal. In some manner she pulled the stove from the table and fell to the floor, hitting the upper part of her body being over the lighted burners. The oil was spilled on her and practically all of the clothing was burned from her body before Mrs. Henson was able to extinguish the flames. The child was badly burned and was rushed to the suffering at an early hour this morning.

Barbara Jean was born in Dixon April 16, 1930 and beside her parents is survived by two sisters, Arlene and Gloria Louise, and three brothers, Lawrence, Virgil Eugene and Robert Dean, all at home.

Short funeral services will be conducted at the Preston chapel Saturday afternoon at 1:30. Rev. H. W. Lambright officiating, and the body will be taken to Walnut for services at the M. E. church at 2:30.

DEMONSTRATION HERE

Dwight Hartzell and wife arrived in Dixon last night to remain over the weekend visiting at the W. D. Hartzell home on Brinton avenue. This evening at 8 o'clock Mr. Hartzell will appear before members of the Dixon Woman's Club and their invited guests in the dining hall at the Elks club house, giving his lecture and demonstration on meat cutting. For several years he has travelled through North America delivering his lectures and demonstrations and is considered a specialist and expert along these lines. A new educational film produced by Swift & Co. will be given its premier showing at the interesting program this evening.

ATTENDED MEETING

Several members of the Auxiliary to William E. Baldwin camp, U. S. W. V. motored to Rock Island yesterday and attended an all day district meeting held in memorial hall at the court house. Those who made the trip were: Mesdames Lester Street, Ned Rosister, Matt Doctor, Eric Weed, Anna Wachtel, Fred Hemen, Dora Heft and sister, Leslie Cole, David Helmick, Little Horton and sister, Edward May, John Miller and Paul Miller.

If Park Avenue Debutantes Keep on Modeling in Fashion Shows in New York Models Will Steal Beaux

New York, Oct. 26.—(AP)—If Park Avenue debutantes don't stop modeling in fashion shows, the professional models are going to steal their beaux.

Forty comely mannequins heard Gertrude Mayer, director of a fashion models' academy, make this grim threat yesterday—"as a last resort, if protests and picketing doesn't work."

"Maybe we'll have to fight fire with fire, and actually invade the society sanctums and steal the young debutantes' boy friends away," said Miss Mayer.

"And looking at all you beautiful girls, I don't think we'll have such difficult task."

The professional models have declared war on society women who "muscle in" and model as a lark, because, they assert, trained girls are deprived of jobs.

If appeals do no good, they will picket the next show where society girls model—and after that, start stamping.

Young People of Brethren Church in Monthly Meet

The Young People's Sunday school class of the Brethren church which is taught by Rev. William E. Thompson, had a delightful time as the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Plowman last night. The class was well represented. A short business session was conducted by the retiring president, Lyle Myers. The new officers were elected as follows:

President—Carl Plowman

Vice Pres.—Ruth Brantner

Secretary-Treasurer—Ruth Bowers

The most interesting game played was called "Jingles". Each one was given a word to be used in writing a rhyme and some splendid talent was revealed. Each one enjoyed the evening and after refreshments were served the thanks were given to their guest, Dorothy Plowman for the good time they had in her home. The class will meet again the second Tuesday evening in November.

One-Armed Pianist to Appear in U. S.

New York, Oct. 26—(AP)—Paul Wittgenstein, one-armed pianist who has the distinction of having had more concertos composed for him than any other living player, makes his first appearance in North America November 8 with the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

The Viennese musician went at a career in the usual two-handed manner. When the war began he enlisted in the Austrian army, and in the fall of 1914 he was wounded and captured by the Russians.

"I lay on the battlefield, forgotten," he said. "My right arm lay battered and broken. I knew I must lose it, but as I lay, wondering whether I would live or die, I resolved that with my left hand I would recapture all I had lost."

The pianist was found the arm was amputated, and he was sent to prison in Siberia. When at last he returned to Vienna he began practicing, rebuilding his technique.

SWIFT-TRAYLOR EN-GAGEMENT REPORTED

Chicago, Oct. 26—(AP)—Miss Nancy Taylor, daughter of the late Melvin Taylor, president of the First National Bank, and Nathan Swift, young member of the wealthy Swift clan, long identified with the packing industry in Chicago, are engaged, the Chicago Evening American said today.

The wedding, expected to take place during the Christmas holidays, will necessarily be quiet because the bride-to-be, her mother, Mrs. Melvin Taylor and her brother, Melvin, are in mourning for the death of her father last winter.

Apple Salad Cheese Sticks Individual Pumpkin Pies Coffee Chocolate Coated Pop Corn Stick Candy

Apple Salad

1 1/2 cups diced celery
2-3 cup diced pineapple
1-2 cup nuts

2 tablespoons lemon juice
1-4 teaspoon salt

1 cup salad dressing

Carefully remove apple pulp from apples, being careful to preserve apple cases to use for holding salad mixture. Cut apple pulp into 1-4 inch dice, add 1-2 the dressing and rest of ingredients. Refill apple cases and top with remaining dressing. Decorate with stickers of black cats.

Individual Pumpkin Pies (12)

3 cups flour
1 cup sugar
1 cup lard

3 tablespoons cold water

Mix salt and flour. Cut in lard.

Mixing with knife, slowly add water. The exact amount can not always be determined so add it carefully. When stiff dough forms, press into ball, break off 1 1/2 inch balls and roll out and fit well into deep muffin pans. Add filling.

Filling

2 cups mashed cooked pumpkin
1-3 cup brown sugar

1 cup sugar
2 teaspoons cinnamon

1 teaspoon nutmeg

2-3 teaspoon salt

1 teaspoon vanilla

4 eggs

3 cups milk

2 tablespoons butter, melted

Mix ingredients and pour into pie shells. Bake 10 minutes in hot oven. Lower fire and bake 25 minutes in moderately slow oven.

Chocolate Coated Popped Corn

2 quarts popped corn

1 cup sugar

1-2 cup corn syrup

2-3 cup water

2 squares chocolate, melted

2 tablespoons butter

Boil gently and without stirring, sugar, corn syrup and water. When soft ball forms when portion is tested in cup of cold water, add chocolate and butter. Mix well and pour over popped corn. Mix and let cool a little. Shape into small piles or balls.

Though all my threads are broken three—

Oh you, who are so wise,

WILL take away my little peace,

My joy, my heart, my fears,

Oh, won't you help me make a mask

To brave the frightened years?

Our Farm Babies

More Farm Babies—Hamer.

All children are more interested in the babies of animals than in any one other thing. These books are an attempt to assist in presenting to children accurate pictures and stories concerning certain farm animals. For those 7-10.

Real Mother Goose, Junior Edition

—Sixty eight of the best-known and loved of these rhymes, carefully chosen for their irreducible appeal for the young ear.

Fool Little Kittens—Frees.

Unusual photographs of real kittens and short text makes this a very sprightly little book. Children 8-12.

Happy Hours—Daniel.

Gold Dust—Schultz.

Members of the Ideal Club were happily entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Smith, who was assisted in entertaining and serving of delicious refreshments by her mother, Mrs. Anna Kreitzer. Roll call was answered by autumn quotations and Mrs. L. W. Miller read entertainingly two chapters from the study book on Alaska. Music selections, vocal and instrumental, were given by talented little Joan Smith, granddaughter of Morrison H. Vail, and clever Hallowe'en stunts, planned by Misses Mattie Wohneke and Helen Warner, were enjoyed. Mrs. Merton Ransom was a guest of the afternoon.

IN THE NEW DEAL CYCLE

New Dealers talk of the next phase, as change follows change. We do not know whether we now are in the second or third or fourth phase, but Washington writers now indicate that President Roosevelt is driving hard through his own efforts and those of Professor Moley, now in New York, to bring back the support of business.

It is understood that the force of argument is based upon fright. The raging storm of socialism, which was whipped up by the New Dealers, led by the President himself, is pointed to as the danger threatening the business world unless the inhabitants of that world join the President. The play presents him as the great conservative who must be relied upon to save them.

David Lawrence, one of Washington's leading commentators, presents the situation in the following language:

"So, in effect, the conservatives are asked to be patient and go along with the administration as the President tries to keep the situation developing on his left from getting out of hand. To cut down expenditures abruptly would, the administration believes, bring a sudden collapse in business and multiply some of the social problems which the administration has been striving to solve."

"The appeal for support and forbearance, which the administration thinks is so essential, would come with more conviction and would gain more headway if it had not been apparent in the past that some of the left wingers in Washington were permitted to take liberties with the law and the constitution, of which transgressions the President himself, it is felt in many quarters, could not have been unaware."

"The fact is that Mr. Roosevelt has immeasurably increased the embarrassments of leadership in a crisis by driving away from his side those conservatives who followed him a year ago and until last spring, notwithstanding the torrent of denunciation and scorn which poured forth from administration spokesmen over the national radio networks week in and week out."

The task, then, is to convince business men that Roosevelt's regimentation is preferable to Sinclair socialism; that Tugwell's socializing scheme is something to cling to in the face of Olson's sacking of successful enterprise; that the brain trust's redistribution of wealth will be more painless than Huey Long's.

So far as we can see, the sooner the mask is off, the better. Words have ceased to be convincing. Actions will be. Promises no longer are worth anything in the absence of performance.

The way to win support of the business world is to instill confidence in the minds of men who have money to invest in business projects. We have had words aplenty.

San Francisco is reaping what Washington has sown.

UNREAL RICHES MELT LIKE MAY SNOWFALL

That odd atmosphere of unreality in which large-scale financial operations sometimes take place was never better illustrated than by some of the testimony given in the current trial of Samuel Insull.

This testimony had to do with that famous battle between Insull and Cyrus Eaton, Cleveland utilities magnate, for control of three of Insull's most important properties.

According to witnesses, Eaton set out to corner large blocks of stock in these companies at a time when their condition was a bit shaky and Insull was worried about them. Altogether, Eaton rounded up something like 160,000 shares, at market prices averaging slightly more than $300 a share.

Then, it is testified, he went to Insull and declared that he wanted $400 a share for this stock—threatening to dump it all on the market if his price was refused.

Such a wave of selling, of course, would have beaten the price down disastrously. So Insull's Corporation Securities Co. came to the rescue. Insull managed to beat Eaton's price down to $350 a share, the Corporation Securities Co. raised $40,000,000 through the issuance of serial gold notes, and Eaton was paid $56,000,000—$48,000,000 in cash and $8,000,000 in stocks.

Now an innocent bystander would suppose that whatever this deal might have done to Insull, it would at least have left Eaton sitting very pretty indeed.

After all, $48,000,000 in cold cash is a neat little nest egg. The financial worries of Eaton, doubtless, were forever ended, then?

Not at all. Today the personal fortune of this financier is estimated at about $100,000. Whatever may have happened to that $48,000,000, it at least seems certain that it has left Eaton's pocket.

What, then, was the result of this titanic combat of the money kings? Ruin for Insull, certainly; for Eaton a stupendous victory whose fruits, within a few short years, turned to dust like Dead Sea apples.

Like so many of the games of the money masters, it all took place in a realm of fantasy. The 1929 crash proved that multi-millionaires could be turned into paupers overnight.

This episode is simply added proof that these enormous "fortunes" that the money masters command have something unreal about them. They can vanish faster than a May snowfall.

The cabin man chopped chips out for an hour, then said, "My arms are sore. Who wants to carry on for me, while I sit down and rest?"

"The boat I am making is for you, so you all should be willing to turn in and lend a hand, and try to do your very best."

"That is fair," said wee Scouty. "I will gladly make some big chips fly. Look out, now, all you Tinies. Lots of room is what I need."

He worked away for quite a while and then the man said, with a smile, "The boat soon will be finished. You are showing lots of speed."

However, Scouty shortly said, "I have had enough. I have often read of woodsmen who work all day long. That is too much for me."

"Here, Copy, it is your turn, now. Go right ahead. We have shown you how." "You bet I will," snapped wee Copy. "And some real work you will see."

Adjusting Banking
To Changing Needs

By ROBERT V. FLEMING

vice President American Bankers Association

BANKERS recognize that changing conditions require new methods of doing business. However it is their responsibility to retain those essential and sound financial principles upon which this country was founded and has grown to be what is still the richest nation in the world.

Many of our difficulties have arisen from lack of confidence and from misunderstanding. Therefore it behooves the banker to bend every effort to create a better public understanding of sound banking and thereby, bring about that united effort and cooperative spirit which will hasten the day of national recovery and restore to the banker the confidence of the public to which he is entitled.

An approach to the realization of this ideal, bankers should carefully scrutinize every application for a loan to see if it is bankable and, if it is not in bankable form, then make further examination to see if the loan can be made so, in order to stimulate use of credit.

Explaining Loan Factors to Customers

We must not expect our customers to be bankers and understand all the factors which we must consider before granting a loan. If we find that a loan is not, and cannot be made bankable, then I think we should take pains to explain the reasons why it cannot be granted.

There are other measures which I think it important for the banker to undertake in order to eliminate the misunderstandings which have arisen and overcome the sentiment which exists. Under present conditions we have to operate under many laws and regulations, and also watch what further legislation is being proposed which affects our methods of operation and may not be in the best interest of the communities we serve. Nowadays it seems at times we must sit with a law book in one hand and a book of regulations in the other in order to make certain we are discharging our daily duties and functioning strictly in accordance with the law. All of this is very trying, yet I think in the end we shall become better bankers.

As we took the bend of a lane, suddenly we heard the sound of coarsest laughter, and came upon a party from the local hotel. Most of them were in evening dress, wearing paper caps, dancing about, more than half drunk, insane jokes mixed with ribald talk.

"Under such a sky," said my friend, to whom the contrast was unbearable. "Heavenly beauty up there, and boguish beastliness down here, indecently loud and vulgar. Even God has nothing to say to it or with it."

"Just think of it," he added, "in the scale of values there is more in Hitler than in those swine. He at least believes in something, carries his life in his hand, and gets less pay than a policeman. He may drag us into hell, but trivial fools make life a pigsty!"

"Man is where he is," he said, "because of the kind of mind he has. When will the life of man be as lovely as the world in which he lives?"

GUESSERS ARE AT IT AGAIN; BARKER CHOICE

AP Expert, Like Burned Child, Returns to the Fire

By HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
New York, Oct. 26—(AP)—The burned child may fear the fire but football guessers are a harder, or a less wise group.

Notwithstanding the scars already incurred in the line of duty this season, they were at it again today, hoping Old Man Upset would keep his meddling fingers out of the pie for once. From this corner, week-end prospects seemed about as follows:

Yale-Army: Army, unbeaten, unscorched upon and untested. Yale, beaten once but coming along fast as witness the 37-0 rout of Brown last week. The Cadets, led by Jack Buckler, seem to have far the better running attack but must beware of that demon passer, Jerry Roscoe. A not-too-certain ballot for Army.

Minnesota-Iowa: There's no choice but Minnesota here but the Gophers will have to keep Oze Simmons and Dick Crayne well covered and keep their own game at the same high level that overcame Pitt.

Stanford-Southern California: Here's the logical spot for one of the season's outstanding upsets but it's a sheer impossibility to pick anyone but Stanford.

Alabama Gets Call

Alabama-Georgia: Close action almost certain but Alabama's Crimson Tide, leading Southeastern Conference contender, gets the call.

Rice-Texas: The Southwest Conference title may hang on this one with Rice a narrow choice.

Penn-Navy: Penn has shown encouraging progress the last two weeks but hardly enough to overturn Navy's unbeaten array, featuring Buzz Morris and Bill Clark.

Michigan-Illinois: Michigan finally broke its touchdown famine against Georgia Tech last week but seems fit for another beating by the Illini and their tricky offensive.

Washington-California: Both are regarded now as possible Pacific Coast Conference champions and it probably will take a "break" or two to decide this tussle. A vote for Washington.

Baylor-Texas A. & M.: The results to date would seem to indicate an edge for Baylor, but there's little to choose between them.

He Picks Purdue

Carnegie Tech-Purdue: The Boilermakers look too strong for Carnegie.

Fordham-Southern Methodist: One of the southwest's best pitted against the team that was roundly outplayed by St. Mary's last week. A perhaps too-trusting vote of confidence in Fordham's ability to solve the Mustangs' passing.

Notre Dame-Wisconsin: Notre Dame beat Purdue by two touchdowns; Purdue beat Wisconsin by two touchdowns. Two and two makes four. That won't be the margin in this game, but a vote for Notre Dame just the same.

Tulane-Georgia Tech: Tech returns from its midwest invasion just in time, probably, to take a beating.

Vanderbilt-Louisiana State: Two southeastern contenders collide here and one's title hopes will crash. The coin says Louisiana State to win.

Washington State-Oregon State: A close one, Washington State.

Marquette-Temple: The east has small success when it travels into the mid-west but we'll take a flier on Marquette in this one.

Trails With Dartmouth

Harvard-Dartmouth: Stringing along with another unbeaten but interested Eincs-a-mo in m mec untested outfit, Dartmouth, narrowly.

Holy Cross-Colgate: Holy Cross' perfect record will be seriously threatened here but the Crusaders get the nod.

Northwestern-Ohio State: This Ohio State team is good.

Centenary-Texas Christian: Centenary usually spells trouble for most Southwest Conference teams; last week's defeat of Texas indicates this year is no exception.

Utah-Oregon: Utah never has much luck against Pacific Coast Conference teams. A ballyhoo for Oregon.

Tennessee-Duke: No tougher one on the list than this one. Duke slightly favored.

Princeton-Cornell: In spite of the close call with Washington & Lee Princeton.

Brown-Syracuse: Syracuse to remain unbroken.

Maroons Should Win

Chicago-Missouri: No reason apparent why Chicago should stumble on this one.

Nebraska-Iowa State: Dynamite concealed in this vital Big Six Conference game but Nebraska, none-the-less.

Auburn-Kentucky: Auburn has won only one game in five, but the Plainsmen have played well enough to indicate this may be victory No. 2.

Maryland-Florida: Two air-minded teams with the issue apparently resting on completed passes. Tossing the coin, Maryland.

North Carolina-North Carolina State: On the records, North Carolina.

Columbia-Penn State: Two excellent branches of the "cat" family, with Columbia's Lions favored over the Nittany Lions.

Georgetown-New York University: Georgetown.

Kansas-Oklahoma: Oklahoma mainly because Kansas hasn't scored a point on a major rival so far.

Tulsa-Kansas State: Kansas St. in a hard-fought one.

Arkansas-Missouri Mines: The Razorbacks of Arkansas in a so-called "breather."

Spot For Generals

Washington & Lee-Virginia Poly

Apparently the spot for the Generals to win their Second Southern Conference game.

Virginia-Virginia Military: Looks like Virginia.

Mississippi-Sewanee: Mississippi.

Colorado-Colorado Aggies: On comparative scores, which frequently lie, a timid vote for the Aggies.

Colorado Teachers-Montana St.: The Teachers.

Denver-Wyoming: Denver gets the call.

Bucknell-Villanova: Bucknell is hard to beat at home, but precedents mean little this season.

Pitt-West. Minster: The Panthers, eased up.

Friday Games

Duquesne-Detroit: Detroit wants revenge for last year's licking and may get it.

George Washington-Lake Forest: A vote for the Colonials from Washington, D. C.

Washington Uni.-Drake: A ballot for Washington.

HOT STOVE LOOP WILL DISPOSE OF BAMBINO OFTEN

Babe Ruth's Status to be Topic of Much Conversation

New York, Oct. 26—(AP)—Babe Ruth's uncertain status with the New York Yankees apparently is going to furnish the "hot stove" item with its principal item of conversation this winter.

Since the Babe made his famous pronouncement at Detroit during the world series that he would not remain with the Yankees simply as a pinch-hitter, rumors have come thick and fast, connecting his name with various managerial berths.

The latest one, widely circulated yesterday, said Ruth would succeed Connie Mack as manager of the Philadelphia Athletics next season. Just what basis in fact, if any, this yarn might have still was to be learned today for the story came when the two principals, Mack and Ruth, were on shipboard halfway out on the Pacific on their way to Japan for a baseball barnstorming tour.

Plenty of Denials

Even so there were plenty of denials. Ed Barrow, business manager of the Yankees, said that so far as he knew there was no truth to the story.

"One thing is sure," he said. "Ruth is still on the reserve list of the Yankees and no request has been made to us for his release or his transfer to another club."

All bunk," said John Shibe, vice president of the Athletics.

You know the New York writers have been trying to find a job for Ruth for years. There's apparently none open, so they decide to make him manager of the Athletics.

Mac's son, Cornelius McGilligan, Jr., said "father has no intention of retiring and I can assure you that he will not return before the next season."

What really led to the rumor evidently was the fact that Ruth was named field leader of Mack's barnstorming team in the Orient. The New York Daily News, which printed the story, said Mack, who will be 72 in December, would announce his retirement upon his return to this country in January, and that Ruth then would be named manager.

"Terms Uncertain"

Just what terms were offered the Babe is uncertain," the newspaper said. "But it was indicated that in addition to a salary comparable to the one the Babe would have accepted had he renewed his contract with the Yankees, Ruth will be given a small amount of Athletics stock."

Regardless of the authenticity of the latest rumor, there is strong reason to believe that if and when Ruth is offered a managerial post, the Yankee management will not stand in his way. Should such a job be offered, whether in the American or the National League, he will be guaranteed a place on the team.

Washington, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Joe Cronin, young manager of the Washington American League baseball team, was sold today to the Boston Red Sox, and reports here said he was given a five-year contract as player-manager.

In one of the biggest major league deals of recent years Boston bought the 28-year-old shortstop for a price reported to be the highest ever paid for a player, — more than the $125,000 the Yankees paid for Babe Ruth in 1919. The Red Sox also sent shortstop Lynn Lary to the Senators.

Cronin will succeed Stanley (Bucky) Harris as the Red Sox manager. It was understood here Harris, who lives here, was a hunting trip today and Mrs. Harris said the deal was "news

"A Little Child Shall Lead Them"

Song Leader at Special Revival Meetings in Dixon

Revival meetings will be held in the First Baptist church, Second street, from the 5th to the 16th of November, by Dr. F. H. Farrington of the Ravenswood Baptist church, Chicago and the Rev. Ralph E. Gronseth of the Marengo Baptist church.

Dr. Farrington is one of the most brilliant Baptist preachers in the country. He belongs to the sunny Southland, and has a splendid record there. He came to the Ravenswood Baptist church a little over two years ago and has filled the church. His famous "Bargain Day Talks" once a month have brought many to hear him. Under his ministry the church has made wonderful strides. He was preacher at camp Sunshine during this summer and the young people enjoyed his sermons and were stirred to greater zeal in their local churches as the result of his messages.

Rev. R. E. Gronseth of Marengo is the song leader during the campaign. He is well loved throughout the association and is the beloved song leader of Camp Sunshine. He commenced his evangelistic work while still a boy in the Moody church in Chicago. He is a chaplain of the American Legion and was trained for the ministry at the Northern Baptist Theological Seminary.

The meetings will be held every evening at 7:30 P. M. preceded by prayer meetings at 7:15 P. M. in the east room. Further information will be given about children's meetings next week.

FOR WORLD WIDE REVIVAL

CRY OF CHICAGO TAMMANY HEARD THROUGH STATE

G. O. P. Orators Pound Away on Charge of Political Czars

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 26.—(AP)—Downstate Illinois, where the battle for control of the General Assembly is being waged, is resounding to charges of Republican orators that a "Chicago Tammany" is seeking to perpetuate its hold on the commonwealth and the claim of rival spell binders that election of a Democratic legislature is necessary so the state may go "forward with Roosevelt and Horner."

The cry of "Chicago Tammany" has been raised from virtually every Republican stump downstate. The GOP orators have recited the alleged sins of omission and commission of the so-called Nash-Kelly-Horner Chicago machine in detail.

They have claimed the "Chicago Tammany" dominated the present assembly by "auction block roll calls." This charge, first made by Elmer Schnackenberg, GOP floor leader in the house, has been often repeated. They have scored the sales tax, especially in border districts, and their state platform calls for its repeal.

Seek Investigation

They have, through material released for publication by their official press bureau, urged the election of a Republican house to investigate Democratic office holders. Their orators, almost without exception, have denied Democratic claims of economy in conducting the affairs of the state.

They have denounced the enactment of the state NRA law, claiming it was a surrender of sovereignty to the federal government. They have claimed the Democratic legislature has been a "rubber stamp" for the wishes of Patrick J. Nash, Democratic National Committee man, Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago and Gov. Horner.

These are but a few of the charges and claims made by legions of GOP spellbinders.

The Democrats, meanwhile, have been equally busy in making charges and claims.

Credit Sales Tax

Led by the governor, they have asked the return of a Democratic house so the administration would not be crippled in its efforts. The sales tax, which replaced the state tax on real and personal property, has been credited with easing the tax burden.

They seek to demonstrate, through records of the Auditor's office, that the Democrats have made full payment of the school distributive fund this year, the first time this has been accomplished in a number of years.

The GOP charge of a "Chicago Tammany" is ridiculed by Democratic orators who point out that downstaters, regardless of party, are in majority in the legislature.

Much emphasis is placed on Horner's claim to have conducted the affairs of state under his direction at a saving of $22,200,000 less for the biennium than was done under the preceding Republican administration.

PROGRESSIVES

FLOCK TO WIS. TO ASSIST BOB

Some Democrats Also to Back LaFollette for U. S. Senate

Madison, Wis., Oct. 26.—(AP)—The old progressive bloc of the United States Senate, regardless of party affiliation, has rallied to the support of Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., in his campaign for re-election as the standard bearer of a new party.

A big time is planned for the young folks of the church by the Senior Luther League this next Tuesday night. It is a time for ghosts and spooks to walk and haunt the ways of youth. The time is set at 8:00 o'clock at the church parlors. It might be dangerous and who knows what great calamity might befall that young lad or lass who refuses and neglects to attend this big social of the midnight spirits. But there is another side to this Senior Luther League which is more important than witch socials. Come on Sunday night at 6:30, enjoy the live and earnest meeting which is held.

They are beginning to sprout and grow in the Junior Luther League. This group of juniors meets every Sunday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock.

Every youngster should know about them. It's worth finding out.

They are open door and a welcome for all Juniors and their friends. Remember the time.

They are open door and a welcome for all Juniors and their friends. Remember the time.

A big time is planned for the young folks of the church by the Senior Luther League this next Tuesday night. It is a time for ghosts and spooks to walk and haunt the ways of youth. The time is set at 8:00 o'clock at the church parlors. It might be dangerous and who knows what great calamity might befall that young lad or lass who refuses and neglects to attend this big social of the midnight spirits. But there is another side to this Senior Luther League which is more important than witch socials. Come on Sunday night at 6:30, enjoy the live and earnest meeting which is held.

They are beginning to sprout and grow in the Junior Luther League. This group of juniors meets every Sunday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock.

Every youngster should know about them. It's worth finding out.

They are open door and a welcome for all Juniors and their friends. Remember the time.
